Everyone has dreams of being great, but to actually go out and make it happen through hard work is something we strive for. It has to do with effort.

"The nice thing is individually we control all of those things in PCE," Bell said.

"It's week 10, it's Nordonia, and we are at home. I'm not sure if anymore needs to be said. Jeff Fox does a great job and I know he will have his team ready to play on Friday. We must focus on the little details this week, take care of the ball on offense, cover and tackle in our kicking game, and get the stops on defense when we need them."

"PASSION"
Playing the game with passion, being a great teammate, doing everything with passion.

"COMMITMENT"
We talk about it being an all-the-time thing, not when it is comfortable or convenient. What kind of player do you want to be? What kind of impact do you want to have on the program?

JORDAN MABIN - MR FOOTBALL 2006

In 2006, the Nordonia Knights had an individual join an exclusive club, as senior running back Jordan Mabin was named "Mr Football" for the state of Ohio that season. Mabin rushed for more than 2,300 yards and for his career topped the 6,700-yard mark.

Coach Bell's Philosophy

The first step toward creating an improved future is developing the ability to envision it.

VISION will ignite the fire of passion, which fuels our commitment to do whatever it takes to achieve excellence.

Only VISION allows us to transform dreams of greatness into the reality of achievement through human action.

VISION has no boundaries and knows no limit.

Our VISION is what we become in life.

1ST AND 10 WITH DAVID BROWNE

BROWNE IS THE DEFENSIVE LINE COACH AT TWINSBURG HIGH SCHOOL

1 - How did playing college football at Iowa help shape your coaching style and do you share any Big 10 stories with your current players?

A - I attribute most of my coaching philosophies and principles from my Defensive line coach at Iowa - Dan McCauley. He was an Iowa Lutzenamer in the mid 70’s, coached there for about 12 years before taking assistant coaching positions at Florida and Wisconsin. He then became the head coach at Iowa State and ended his career recently at North Texas State.

I am also a big fan of Larry Johnson at Ohio State. He has some incredible techniques and drills that I have been doing for about 5 or 6 years now with my players. Being new to the staff here at Twinsburg, I have really only shared a few stories with the kids, I’ve shared more with Coach Bell and the staff. But I’m sure moving forward I will share more with the players.

2 - How much did you learn from being on championship staffs at St. Edward with Coach Finotti?

A - Coach Finotti is the most organized and meticulous coach I have ever worked for. His philosophy is hard work trumps everything else. You will never out work him, his players or coaches, and he requires a lot of self-sacrificing. There are no shortcuts and as a player or coach, you will buy in to his program or you will not be around. Yet the players who play for him love him and the coaches who work for him respect him. He runs practice like a college program and every minute is accounted for. But probably the two things I learned most from him is the word of what we are trying to accomplish, and hopefully, more kids will buy in. But it is a process. In terms of the defensive line, I’m teaching them that playing up front is a game within the game.

3 - What do you see for the future of Twinsburg football not only for the defensive line but for the entire program?

A - I have a ton of respect for Coach Bell. He came to me three years ago about being on the staff but quite honestly, I was a little burnt out and wanted a break. Coaching at Edwards is usually a 5 or 6 month grind depending on how far you advance in the playoffs. So I really like the staff that he has assembled here. They are hard working men that do their best to give our kids the information to perform on game nights. That being said, we have a tremendous challenge before us as most rebuilding programs do. I was fortunate to coach here back in the mid to late 90’s when Twinsburg was relevant. I’m not sure of how many of those top players exist here now, so we are trying to build and spread the word of what we are attempting to accomplish, and hopefully, more kids will buy in. But it is a process. In terms of the defensive line, I’m teaching them that playing up front is a game within the game.

First and foremost, they have to learn the fundamentals of the position. We are teaching them hand, feet and eye technique for the position. When I first came here, we had a group of fighters that simply kept to the grindstone. Of my most memorable years were when we were not projected to do much, but had a group of fighters that simply kept to the grindstone.

4 - Coach Bell has been very complimentary of you as an addition to the staff, with that said what is your coaching philosophy for the guys playing on the defensive line?

A - Typically, I like the outside ends to be athletic guys who can funnel everything back to the middle. They don’t have to be the strongest guys, although they help, but they can’t lose the outside edge and must keep the pressure on offensive tackles. The inside players have to be able command double-teams and fight through double teams using techniques which we teach them. We want to be a read, react and attack style of defensive front.
